

Paylogic is an innovative and rising company operating in the entertainment industry. It is primarily specializing in internet and ticketing-technology and the services attached to. Paylogic was founded in 2006 in the Netherlands and is today selling several million of tickets for over 700 promoters and organizations.

After a successful expansion to Germany we are now advertising for our Berlin's headquarter, at the earliest date, a further

Intern in Sales & Marketing

Responsibilities include:

- support in customer acquisition and the setup of a customer network
- realization of competition and market analysis
- further development of products and services
- development of attractive services and implementation of planned actions
- assistance in developing and implementing of advertising measurements
- supporting events
- assistance in the setup of a co-operation's and mediapartner's pool
- communicational tasks in event marketing
- close co-operation with external counterparts (promoters, labels, etc.)
- support and contextual design of social media accounts/brainstorming for innovative actions
- communication of events on the internet and in communities

Your profile:

- you are studying business administration, marketing, event/sports management or similar field of studies; alternatively finished job training
- you are motivated, show initiative and can manage challenges independently
- you offer distinctive customer-orientation and quality awareness
- you are flexible and stress-resistant
- you are able to work in a team
- you have strong communication skills and you are reliable and trustworthy
- fluent in German, thorough command of the written and spoken English language
- good knowledge of computer programs especially MS Office Package (Power Point, Excel, Word)

Other

- 3-6 months
- full time

Our Offer:

If you want to complete a team in a young and successful company, please send your application documents and the earliest date of availability to:

sascha.dewald@paylogic.de, Mr. Sascha Dewald, head of sales